

Office stationery.co.uk

Water cooler solutions

Hydrated workers are productive workers

Why introduce a water cooler solution?

Did you know, the Department of Health recommends that we should drink a minimum of 1.2 litres of fluid every day to achieve maximum efficiency?

Many leading organisations encourage their employees to maintain a healthy lifestyle as they know the positive business impact that can be achieved. A hydrated worker is much more efficient, productive, bright, energetic and less prone to sickness and absence. It's not only your employees who will feel the benefit - customers and other visitors will appreciate it too.

Bottled or mains fed? What's right for you?

When thinking of installing a water cooler in your office, you have two main options:

Our bottled water coolers provide a constant supply of cold and refreshing mineral water. They can be located pretty much anywhere where there's a power supply and give you complete control over the quality and continuity of your water. Convenient for your staff and visitors, bottled water coolers are easily installed and your regular supply of bottles comes to you on a reliable, fixed delivery schedule which we will agree with you up front.

Mains fed water coolers can save you money by transforming your mains supply into filtered, freshly chilled drinking water. With our fixed price arrangements, one cost covers everything from installation to filters and service. A mains fed water cooler is convenient, with no water deliveries, bottle deposits, lifting or storage to think about. It will also help keep your carbon footprint low, using less energy and reducing food miles.

No matter what type of cooler you choose, the water is always filtered to get rid of the harsh chemicals and impurities such as chlorine which are often found in tap water.

We also serve it hot!

Say goodbye to queuing for the kettle. Instant water boilers are a great option if you want instant boiling water on demand. Our automatic water boilers pass cold water from your mains supply through the BRITA™ filtration system which is then passed through super-efficient heating elements which rapidly boil the water to the perfect temperature - 100°C.

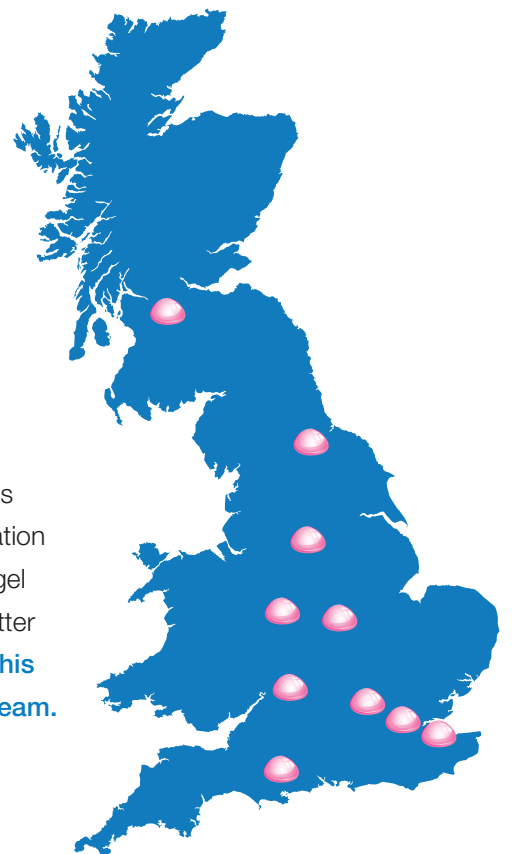

As instant water heaters only boil the exact amount of water you require, there is minimal wastage. Water boilers are more efficient than conventional appliances, so not only will you save money, but you will also reduce your impact on the environment.

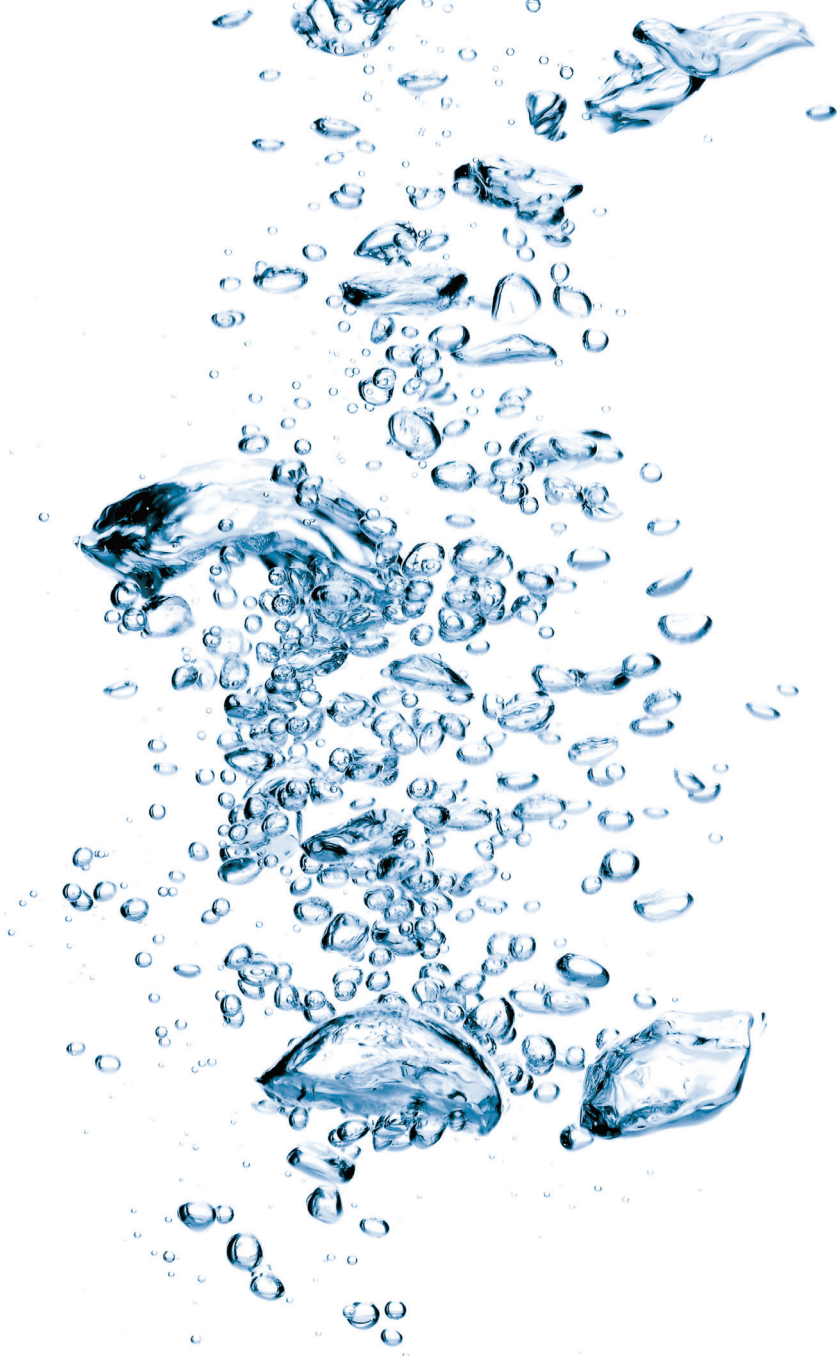

You are in safe hands

We have partnered with the longest established water cooler company in the UK to bring you an unrivalled service, from your one stop office supplies company. Fully audited and accredited by the British Water Cooler Association and an active member of the British Institute of Facilities Management, Angel Springs are a national organisation that keep the supply local to ensure better service and minimal impact on the environment. To find out more about this service, please do get in touch today and speak to a member of the team.

Office stationery.co.uk

To find out how we can help you, please get in touch with us today: